

October 1st, 2016 - Today the volunteers from Riverdale took part of the annual Riverdale Park Day. Even with the wet weather, it didn't damper another great day to share with the residents we strive to protect everyday. The volunteers were out in full force with all apparatus at the station fully staffed and in service ready to respond to any incident. This year we served food as well as interacted with the residents and visitors of Riverdale Park. We also had the honor of being commended along with the Riverdale Park Police Department, by the mayor of Riverdale Park. The mayor touched on the dedication and the superior service that our volunteers and fine officers of the police department provide day in and day out to our amazing town!
